When I selected to pay for radio services and purchased a monthly service from XM Radio, I did that knowing full well that "free" radio was available but that it did not satisfy my listening needs. When they added local traffic and weather, I was extremely happy as now I could go from my home to various other cities and be able to locate local traffic and weather information without having to "hunt" for it all over the dial!

Once again, the biggest critic of governmental interference in the media sector of our lives, has gone running to mama (the government) for help. Perhaps, as a child is taught, you stand on your own 2 feet and try to protect yourself with a better product, instead of having mama doing it, would prove a valuable lesson for N.A.B.
